February 1, 2025

Beyond the Mind’s Eye

"Beyond the Mind's Eye" is a fascinating piece of computer animation history. Released in 1992, this video was part of a series that showcased cutting-edge computer graphics of the time. The Radioshack version is particularly notable for its accessibility and popularity among tech enthusiasts.

The video features a collection of short animations set to music, creating a mesmerizing visual and auditory experience. It's a great example of early

CGI and how it was used to push the boundaries of visual storytelling.